

FAQ

What is Little Tiny Docs?

Little Tiny Docs is an international short documentary film festival dedicated to documentary works with a maximum duration of five minutes.

What is the theme of the first edition?

The 2026 theme is "Crossings".

Can I submit a film already published online?

Yes.

Can I submit an academic project?

Yes.

Are AI-generated films accepted?

Yes. Participants must hold all necessary rights related to the materials used.

Is there an entry fee?

No. Submission is free.

How many films can I submit?

Each participant may submit one film.

Can minors participate?

Yes, with parental or legal guardian authorization.

What languages are accepted?

Any language is accepted. Non-English films must include English subtitles.

What types of documentaries are accepted?

All documentary approaches and formats are accepted.

What is the maximum duration?

5 minutes, excluding initial and last credits.

How do I submit my film?

Through the official Google Form using a Vimeo or YouTube link.

Will selected films be screened publicly?

Yes, during the festival screenings.

Do filmmakers keep copyright ownership?

Yes. All rights remain with the authors.

What can the festival use for promotion?

The festival may use stills, trailers, excerpts, and titles exclusively for festival-related promotion and communication.